KNOX WINS OVER BORAH IN ILLINOIS PRIMARY ELECTION

Chicago Publisher Defeats Veteran Senator From Idaho

A MAJORITY OF 100,000

Severe Jolt to Borah's Candidacy in View of Landon's Strength

By George C. Gallati
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Apr. 15—(INS)—The hectic Illinois primary, which brought Gov. Henry Horner victory over his Democratic party rival in a significant record-breaking Democratic vote, today rudely jolted the presidential aspirations of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, defeated the veteran Senator from Idaho for the Illinois presidential preference endorsement by a majority which is expected to reach 100,000. The Knox victory was viewed as a severe if not final blow to Senator Borah's candidacy, particularly in view of the growing strength shown by Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

The Democratic primary fight, perhaps the bitterest contest in Illinois history, saw Gov. Horner defeat Dr. Herman N. Bundensen for the gubernatorial nomination by a majority that may exceed 170,000 votes. It was the culmination of an explosive factional fight in which Horner, dumped overboard by the powerful Kelly-Nash machine of Chicago, waged a successful campaign against the regular Democratic organization.

A total Democratic vote exceeding 1,500,000 the highest ever recorded for the party in an Illinois primary, served to strengthen the hopes of democracy's leaders concerning the 1936 election. County Chairman Patrick Nash, generalissimo of the Bundensen campaign, attributed the large vote to a desire of the people "to show their preference for President Roosevelt."

Thieves Enter and Damage Many Perkasie Bungalows

PERKASIE, April 15—Probably the most sweeping "raids" ever made on the bungalows at Perkasie Park, committed some time during the past week, is now being investigated by the state and local police.

Twenty-five bungalows were entered and damaged, and a large number of articles of small value were stolen.

The only serious theft was that of an electric motor used to run kitchen equipment in one of the houses.

The latest series of robberies was discovered by Frank Deily, of Perkasie, superintendent of the park, who is in the habit of making periodic visits to the bungalows to check up on the property. He found an open window, which led to further investigation.

A complete check on all the bungalows revealed the fact that twenty-five out of the 200 located at the park had been entered and damaged in some way or other.

Entrance, in most cases, was gained through second floor windows, where panes of glass had been broken, and the locks opened. Owners who have visited the park since the degradations were discovered report only trifling losses, with the exception of Mrs. W. J. Overholts, of Philadelphia. It was from Mrs. Overholts' place that the motor was taken.

Most of the owners, for their own protection, leave a minimum amount of property in the bungalows during the winter months. The park is without police protection, and the cottages present an easy temptation to tramps and mischievous boys.

The entry of a bungalow or two has become common, but never before have so many been included in such a short period of time. Police are of the opinion that the degradations were committed by a group of boys, in view of the nature of the damage and the trifling thefts.

It is likely that the thieves may be traced through some of the articles they stole.

"Mystery at Midnight" Is Play That Will Attract

A play "Mystery at Midnight" will be staged by the Baptist Young People's Union in the church social hall, tomorrow and Friday evenings at 8:00 o'clock.

The cast of characters includes: Barbara Cory, Mildred Dyer; Rathburne Wentworth, John Poulette; Mrs. Wentworth, Dora Thompson; Alma Cory, Dorothy Swangler; Floyd Parker, Gilbert Lovett; Dick Lawrence, Jackson Bauer; Egerine Washington, Laura Ellis; Rasmus Washington, Charles Thompson; Letty Flanders, Doris Hendricks; Oscar Jansen, Warren Talbot.

The plot revolves about a locket owned by Barbara Cory which disappears after she and her friends accidentally arrive at a haunted house in the hills near Chicago. Some of those staying at the house also mysteriously disappear; and it is a young lawyer who arrives during a blizzard, who finally solves the mystery of the missing locket.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the union.

Red Cross Visiting Nurse Traveled Many Miles

The following work was carried on by the executive secretary and visiting nurse of the Bucks County Tuberculosis Society during the month of March in the territory of Morrisville, Langhorne, Bristol, Cornwells Heights, Trevose and Neshaminy Falls:

Patients taken to four chest clinics and one patient taken to a pneumothorax clinic.

Four new cases were reported during the month.

Two deaths due to tuberculosis, which had been under supervision.

Four cases closed (patients moved to other parts of the country).

Eleven active cases visited and instructed as to home care.

Fifty-six contact cases visited and instructed as to home care.

Five doctors visited at their request in regard to patients of theirs whom they desire to have visited from time to time.

The visiting nurse attended five meetings—at the majority of them a short talk was given as to the work carried on.

At the present time there are 57 active and 169 contact cases of tuberculosis being visited regularly by the visiting nurse.

In carrying out the above work the visiting nurse traveled 1,016 miles.

STEEL AS WE USE IT

The American Iron and Steel Institute asserts that modern civilization rests upon a base of steel in the form of countless articles in everyday use. That base weighs 954,000,000 tons, or nearly 17,000 pounds for every man, woman and child in the country. This is the estimate of the amount of steel in use at the present time in the United States. It is said to be the first ever made and is based on calculations of steel production and consumption since perfection of the Bessemer process in 1856 brought the dawn of the modern steel industry.

Of course, we are all conscious of the fact that this is the Age of Steel. We know that steel is fabricated into innumerable forms, ranging from great bridges and sky-reaching buildings down to watch springs and hairpins. Yet we may not appreciate that steel makes possible most of the necessities, conveniences and even luxuries of life in cities, towns and farms, and in places of work. Such, at least, is the claim of the steel makers.

Included in the steel in use today is that in the 26,000,000 passenger automobiles and trucks in this country, in the sanitary cans on grocers' and housewives' shelves; the steel bed springs, upholstery spring and in all the multitude of other products in which steel contributes directly and indirectly to the American standard of living.

Of course, all this has nothing to do with what are called problems of the day and to which much heavy thought is given. It is just one of those incidental bits of information on which general intelligence is built. On that basis we offer it here.

CATASTROPHE

To a long list of Nature's holocausts of the last twelvemonth must be added the most disastrous of all, the tornadoes in the South.

Earthquakes, floods, dust storms have ravaged the land, but in loss of life, human injury and property damage the tornadoes that have struck the South transcend all the other catastrophes.

It is a huge task that confronts the Red Cross and the other relief agencies south of the Mason-Dixon line. More than 500 persons killed, thousands injured, whole towns wrecked, pestilence raising its ugly head, the picture is one of misery and desolation.

Man's battle with the elements is never wholly won.

You'd suppose Europe could content itself for a few years after signing a peace treaty, from sheer momentum.

A London novelist is moving to a small island in the Hebrides in search of peace. Maybe he has mis taken gulls for doves.

Our amusing Senate is now investigating one of its own investigations. It is hoped by introducing to develop a wholly new type of ferret.

State lotteries work in other lands, it is true. But imagine an American buying a two-cent ticket when he has a whole week's wages to risk.

The Human Betterment Foundation sees a drop in the average intelligence, but we aren't so sure. This "Wahoo" song is a slight improvement over "The Music Goes 'Round."

"We were rather curious about you," pursued Tyler. "And we took the liberty of examining your past."

"Utterly impossible," said Gordon complacently. "The next wonder, if there is another one, ought to get a warm reception," said Tyler, smiling.

"I think there'll be another," said Gordon soberly. "And we've got to catch him!"

"Well, let's hope so," said Tyler. "Between your 'invisible eye' and Ruth, we ought to be able to pull it off."

"I'm counting on it," said Gordon. He cleared his throat. "I—I wanted to have a word or two with you about the whole situation here before dinner," he went on. "I think I've worked out a plausible reason for your presence here. You see, I don't want to alarm the women of the family any more than necessary. Of course the events of last night have them all in something of a state. But I have assured them that we are all quite safe. I—I wouldn't like them to know that you are here to—well, to protect me. You understand?"

Tyler nodded.

"My explanation is this," Gordon resumed. "Mr. Tyler, as an old friend, and a former district attorney, is to work with me in my campaign against the underworld. I have . . . seemed it advisable to tell them, now, of that. Naturally, in view of Miss Tyler's—condition, he would want her to be with him. And Mr. Benson, as his confidential assistant."

"Would naturally be with me also," interrupted Tyler. "That sounds all right to me."

"One more thing," said Gordon hesitantly, lowering his voice. "I think it just as well that we shouldn't mention Miss Tyler's—extraordinary—powers."

He looked at Tyler, half-apologetically.

"As you wish," said Tyler.

"Then—I think that's all, sir," said Gordon, rising. "Unless there's something—anything I can do for you?"

Tyler looked at him through half-closed lids.

"Mr. Gordon," he said, "I didn't want to speak of this in the presence of your son, this morning. But I think it only fair to tell you—

"That you were not alone in your campaign of—shall we say checking up?"

"Eh?" said Gordon. His eyes looked startled. And yet, both men noticed, none of this showed in his face.

"Yes," said Tyler. "I—somehow I believe in him. But I can't help feeling he has his reasons."

"He has," said Ruth, quietly. "He's—he's deathly afraid of something. And yet not for himself alone."

Gordon stared at them, his eyes dilating.

"We found—" Tyler began, then

HIGH SCHOOL BUNNIES OVERWHELM THREE MORRISVILLE PITCHERS, WINNING OPENING GAME, 14-3

By Jack Orr

Smashing the offerings of three Morrisville High School pitchers to all corners of Hertzler Stadium, the Bristol High School Bunnies successfully opened their 1936 baseball campaign by overwhelming the up-river school by a 14-3 count, yesterday.

Seventeen base hits were accumulated by the local batsmen in the seven innings of grilling, and five of these were extra base blows. Two doubles and a trio of home runs were included in the barrage of the Blue and Gold twirlers.

In the meantime, Billy "Red" Galazher was successfully turning back the Morrisville clubmen, holding them to five hits. A three-bagger in the second frame was the only dangerous blow garnered by the Bulldog offense during the tilt.

The localites counted once in the first and went on to garner eleven runs in the second and third stanzas. Five in the second and an even half dozen in the third were how they counted. The homesteaders added a pair of runs in the last frame to clinch the verdict.

Morrisville made their tallies in one run doses. One in the first, third and seventh frames were how they scored.

It was a great day for Cardinal and Gray clubbers. Four of the Bunny batsmen were credited with three base hits. Johnnie Dick made his blows count as he sliced a pair of homers and a single for his day's work. Harry Bauroth, sterling center fielder, smashed a four bagger and added a pair of singles. John Stalone and Jesse VanZant were the others with a trio of binges.

Bob Duboski, Morrisville backstop, collected two hits in three trips to the plate to lead the Blue and Gold sluggers.

CRYDON TO HAVE BALL TEAM

Crydon will be represented on the diamond this season by a team consisting of members of the Crydon Fire Company. Some of the players are well known and have played on the local diamonds in past seasons. A practice game is desired for this coming Sunday and any team that may be interested can call Les. Williams, Bristol 9861, between 6 and 8 o'clock any evening.

EXCELLENT CARD BOOKED FOR CROYDON ARENA

CROYDON, April 15—By far the best boxing card yet offered to theistic fans of this vicinity at the Arena will be the one tonight when 20 of the best amateurs will be pitted against each other in a real "rock 'em and sock 'em" show. Bristol and Croydon boys are matched with the pick of the Philadelphia clubs. The bouts will start promptly at 8:30 p.m. All the bouts are sanctioned by the Middle Atlantic District of the A. A. U.

A bout that has been hanging fire for the last month has been finally arranged, showing Chet Castor, one of the finest to wear the slicken togs, and who just recently defeated Lawrence Thorpe, runner-up in the district championship, and Sol Farino, who just fought Adolph Ratacelli, the present champion, to a standstill. Castor has been diligently training for this bout as he knows a win over Farino will put him in line for a match with Ratacelli, the champion, the following week. Castor is also booked to fight Tony Aiello at Wilmington, Del., and Lawrence Thorpe in a return match at Camden.

Billy Leighton of the Bucks County Rescue Squad, fresh from a win over Carmen Volio of the Seymour Club, will meet Al Hall, Kensington A. C. Hall just now is on a spurt of victories but lost the district championship the other night by a scant margin. Leighton reported in good shape after his great fight with Volio and is after his second win of the week.

The rest of the card is as follows: Joe Meyers of the Rescue Squad booked against Henry Sejje of the Dagger; Al Rutis of the Germantown Boys' Club against Stanley Jackulski, Dagger; while Carl Schmeid, Nativity, will oppose Mickey Whalen, Kensington A. C.

Jack Carter, Dagger, who will be remembered for his great fights with Joe Dahdah at this club, will fight Johnny Welsh, Germantown Boys' Club.

Jimmy "Humpty" Nocito, who is a great favorite with the fans by his eccentric fighting, will try to use his heavy artillery against Johnny Horn, Kensington A. C.; Jimmy Lefferts, Dagger, who was given an unpopular decision against John Giordano, Seymour, the champion, the last time out, will mingle with Marty Bayshire, North End Club.

Frank McClay, Kensington A. C., a hitter and clever puncher, will oppose Tommy Francis, Germantown Boys' Club. A heavyweight bout between John Di Antonio, who knocked out Frankie Alice with the first punch at the last show here, will meet an opponent to be selected later.

Fight fans who relish in seeing a real "rock 'em and sock 'em" show, are promised by Matchmaker Mickey Giordano that they will not go amiss by attending this set of real scraps. Tickets are going fast and by the demand the club will be a sell-out for the first time since boxing has been established here.

OLD AND NEW TO CLASH IN WRESTLING BOUTS

TRENTON, April 15—The old and the new in wrestling will clash at the Arena tonight when Serge Kalmikoff, powerful Russian Giant and veteran of a dozen years of mat wars, tangles with Dynamite Joe Cox, American youngster, who is coming rapidly to the fore in mat wars, and has compiled a really remarkable string of victories in recent weeks.

Cox and Kalmikoff meet in the feature two fall out of three 90 minute limit struggle and a titanic affair is bound to ensue when these two behemoths come to grips.

Neither man has ever been defeated on the Capital City canvas and neither has any desire to be the first to taste defeat. Aggressiveness and the ability to "take it" is the strong forte of Cox and he has come from behind, when his cause seemed hopelessly lost, to achieve spectacular victory.

His win over Dr. Len Hall last week stamped as a popular favorite with the fans and in previous matches he has showed himself to be a grapple of no mean capabilities.

Kalmikoff is a veteran of years on the canvas and his brutal strength has brought him a long string of successive victories. His colorful tactics are a strong box-office magnet and the fans get a real kick, watching him do his stuff. When he first came to this country he attempted to get Jim Luddes, at that time champion, to meet him, but Jimmy refused and Serge chased him all over the States, giving up in disgust and going back to Russia. After an absence of a few years he came back, with his objective as Danno O'Mahoney. They were matched in Philadelphia and with a sell-out in prospect Danno did not put in an appearance. He was suspended for this action.

Shift with both hands on the wheel... with the Electric Hand

COME in for a "Discovery Drive" in a Hudson or Terraplane with the Electric Hand. See what it means to shift gears at a finger flick... smoothly and surely... with both hands on the wheel and both eyes on the road.

Then let us show you FOUR MORE ways in which the Electric Hand makes driving almost magically simpler, easier and safer.

No Levers to Stumble Over

Now you can enjoy a front seat ride with no gear or brake lever in the way... with the floor all clear. A front seat, at last, in which three can stretch in comfort. That's another Electric Hand advantage.

At the wheel of a 1936 Hudson or Terraplane, you'll soon find many other reasons why these cars are growing so fast in popularity.

You'll discover more power, and smoother power, than you find in cars priced hundreds of dollars higher. More room, too... in the biggest cars ever priced so low. With the newest, most advanced style of the year and many new comfort and safety features found on no other 1936 cars.

Then let us show you what others have discovered about the amazing economy and long life of Hudsons and Terraplanes. The proof is waiting... come and see.
